

Performance Linked Incentive Policy

2026

DOCUMENT INFORMATION
Document Name	Performance Linked Incentive Policy
Document Type	Organizational Policy
Author	Harshitha Puppala
Creation Date	26- Apr-24
Reviewed & Approved by	Arunkumar Pappusamy
Status	First Copy
Current Version	Version v1.2
Document History	Document Version	Date	Revised by	Changes
	v1.0	26-Apr-24	Harshitha	Baseline Version
	v1.1	13-Dec-24	Harshitha	Revised and aligned the entire policy, ensuring proper formatting and content accuracy.
	V1.2	22-Jul-26	Harshitha	Updated the entire policy in line with the new CTC structure changes.

Table of Contents

CONTENT	PAGE NUMBER
Purpose	5
Scope and Applicability	5
Guidelines	5
PLI Grid	6
General Information	6

1. Purpose:

The Performance Linked Incentive (PLI) is a variable compensation component designed to recognize and reward employees for their contribution towards achieving individual and organizational goals. PLI is intended to encourage sustained high performance and align employee contributions with the Company's business objectives.

2. Scope and Applicability:

This policy is applicable to all regular full-time employees in career level CL3 and above.

This policy does not apply to:

- Interns
- Consultants
- Contract employees
- Regular full-time employees in career level CL1 & CL2
- Any other category specifically excluded by the Management

3. Guidelines:

3.1. Eligibility

- PLI is applicable to employees in Career Level (CL) 3 and above, as per the approved PLI grid.
- Employees must be on the rolls of the Company and meet the applicable eligibility criteria to receive the quarterly PLI payout.
- The actual PLI amount payable will depend on individual performance as well as company performance of the respective quarter/financial year.
- Employees will become eligible for PLI upon successful confirmation of probation. PLI shall be payable at the end of the quarter in which the employee's probation is confirmed, subject to meeting all other eligibility criteria.
- For newly confirmed employees, PLI shall be calculated on a prorated basis based on the eligible period within the applicable quarter.

- Loss of pay (LOP) days are not considered while calculating the PLI.

3.2. Performance Criteria

The actual PLI payout shall depend on:

- Individual Performance Rating
- Overall Company Performance

3.3. Quarterly Payout

- PLI will be paid on a quarterly basis.
- The payout percentage for each quarter will be determined based on applicable performance parameters approved by the Management.
- The Company reserves the right to withhold, reduce or enhance quarterly payouts depending on business performance.

3.4. Employees Joining During the Year

Employees joining during the financial year shall be eligible for PLI only after successful confirmation of probation.

The PLI shall be calculated on a prorated basis from the eligible quarter based on the employee's date of joining and confirmation.

3.5. Separation from Employment

Employees who resign from the Company shall be eligible for prorated PLI only if:

- they have completed the applicable eligible period;
- all clearance formalities are completed; and
- the payout is recommended and approved by the respective Business Unit Head

The eligible PLI, if approved, shall be processed along with the Full & Final Settlement.

3.6. Loss of Pay (LOP)

Loss of Pay (LOP) days shall not be considered for PLI calculation. Accordingly, the eligible PLI amount shall be proportionately reduced based on the applicable LOP during the payout period.

4. PLI Grid

Grade	PLI %
CL3	10% of Annual CTC
CL4	10% of Annual CTC

5. General Information:

- PLI is a variable compensation component and shall not be treated as part of fixed salary.
- PLI shall be subject to applicable statutory deductions and income tax as per prevailing laws.
- Eligibility under this policy does not constitute a guarantee of payout. The final payout shall be determined based on individual performance, organizational performance and Management approval.
- Any disciplinary action, misconduct, policy violation or integrity-related concern may result in reduction, withholding or forfeiture of PLI at the sole discretion of the Management.
- Employees serving a notice period may receive PLI only as per the separation provisions defined under this policy.
- Management reserves the right to revise, amend, interpret, suspend or withdraw this policy, either wholly or partly, at any time without prior notice.
- In the event of extraordinary business, financial, regulatory or global circumstances (including but not limited to pandemics, natural disasters, economic downturns or force majeure events), the Company reserves the right to defer, reduce or suspend PLI payouts.
- Any dispute regarding interpretation of this policy shall be decided by the Management, whose decision shall be final and binding.